Henry Davis
Area K grave 757?

Little is known about Mr Davis but since the burial record gives his abode as a military hospital, it is appropriate to include him here.

The position of the grave is uncertain because K757 is not on the chart. Grave L757 exists but the surname is Austin and we cannot see the inscription as the headstone is not visible.

MEMORIAL TO THE FALLEN

The stone tablet is on the side of the tower facing Church Road.

The bells of this church
after being silent for some years were re-hung in 1923
as a memorial to those from this church who fell in the Great War 1914 – 1918.
"He will swallow up death in victory."
Is. 25 . 8.
